Introduction

What does it take to survive a brutal storm in a small boat? Could you muster the perseverance to stay at the helm for 36 hours? How much are you willing to sacrifice to make your dreams come true? Could you stay focused on one task for six years? Have you ever felt afraid in business — surrounded by sharks or sea snakes? ...or that the seas are just too rough?

You're about to discover how the disciplines used to sail a boat around the world are the same ones needed in your sales career. Our speaker swam with business sharks, real sharks, and yes, even poisonous sea snakes. He's also survived storms in business and at sea. He has Achieved Unstoppable Performance in his life.

With 30 years of experience in the sales and motivation industry, Larry Jacobson has certainly earned the title of sales expert. After six years and a 40,000-mile sailing odyssey, he has also earned the titles of expert sailor and circumnavigator.

Get ready to cast off your lines, come along for the ride, and learn the keys to achieving Unstoppable Performance in your life!
